Though life may not always be as perfect as it is now,
I vow to always keep my love as pure as it is today.
I promise to be there for you in your laughter and tears,
in sickness and health, in your comfort and fears.
I know that our love is heaven sent, and come what may,
I promise to be there for you all your life.

Well it has been over 5 years that we've been together, I'm very very happy that we've made it here today"
